

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 3th International Longevity Risk and Capital Market Solutions Symposium

July 20~21, 2007

National Chengchi University, Taipei, Taiwan

We invite you to submit a paper for presentation at the Third International Longevity Risk and Capital Market Solutions Symposium in Taipei, Taiwan. The first symposium was held successfully in London and the second in Chicago. National Chengchi University is the host of the third symposium. We welcome theoretical or applied research papers related to longevity risk topics, including modeling, risk management, pensions, insurance and capital market solutions such as mortality derivatives or securitization, or international issues. The accepted papers of the symposium will be published in the special issue of Asia-Pacific Journal of Risk and Insurance.
